CONTRIBUTING TO OUR COMMUNITY. MAKING A DIFFERENCE WORLDWIDE.

The Los Angeles Zoo and Botanical Gardens occupies a unique place in the culture of our city. It introduces a slice of nature at its wildest and most exotic, and provides an environment for teaching people about the world of animals in a setting that is bursting with life and natural beauty.

In this living institution, visitors discover the wondrous varieties of life on our planet. They experience the diversity and mystery of a larger world they might never see, as well as the hidden treasures in their own backyards. They learn about animals from distant lands, gain a respect for the connections between living things, and learn ways to care for and conserve our world.

With annual attendance of more than 1.5 million visitors, the L.A. Zoo is one of the city's major educational and recreational attractions. It is a vital teaching and learning resource, conservation leader, neighborhood partner and global collaborator.

The Los Angeles Zoo and Botanical Gardens has become integral to the quality of life in our community.

Business Partners

are a distinguished group of corporations, businesses, and entrepreneurs that help ensure the Los Angeles Zoo and Botanical Gardens' ability to touch the lives of visitors of all ages.
