

Twenty Eighth Annual

Sunday, November 12, 2017, 7:30 AM to 4 PM

Presented jointly by PAUL'S PHOTO and the GREATER LOS ANGELES ZOO ASSOCIATION, the L.A. Zoo Photo Day is a fantastic photo opportunity for photographers of all age, skill and interest levels. PAUL'S PHOTO's experts and representatives from the greatest brands in photography will be on hand to assist you for a full day of photography and education.

The Los Angeles Zoo offers photographers the opportunity to capture "natural looking" wildlife photos right here in the city. Hands-on workshops and staffed stations are ideal for the novice photographer who desires to learn the basics of wildlife and nature photography while accomplished shutterbug are encouraged to explore new horizons while focusing on the art and science of outdoor photography.

Photographers may participate in informative workshops to improve your wildlife photography techniques. Dynamic presentations will inspire you to create and capture stunning images at the L.A. Zoo. Morning sessions include the popular Basic, Wildlife Close-Up, Reptile or Telephoto stations. Stations offer you the opportunities to photograph animals under ideal situations and become a successful photographer. Afternoon sessions include our keynote address, photo walks and one-on-one time with manufacturer's representatives. Photographers may take advantage of the limited loan equipment from major manufacturers. Participants may enter their best images in the L.A. Zoo Photo Day contest and win prizes.

Photographers enjoy use of the photo day stations and equipment, catered lunch, T-shirt and a full day of photography. Guests receive catered lunch and early admission to the zoo.
